AREA AGENCY ON AGING
We develop and coordinate service delivery for more than 350,000 seniors and their families throughout the region by partnering with approximately 50 non-profit, for-profit, and county agencies across the Triad. In addition, the AAA administers more than 12 million dollars in funding for older adults and their families through an extensive array of programs including home delivered and congregate meals, respite services, transportation and legal services, and caregiver support.

CRIMINAL JUSTICE
Assists local governments and court systems with the planning, implementation, and administration of services and programs serving local, state, and federal criminal justice systems. This division has programs in 23 counties and 16 prisons across NC, and serves about 2,800 participants annually. Ongoing programs include Pretrial Release Services, Recidivism Reduction Services, and Project Re-entry. Our criminal justice programs make a difference by changing participants’ lives, saving money and incarceration costs, and reducing recidivism.

ECONOMIC DEVELOPMENT
The Piedmont Triad Regional Development Corporation is tasked with implementing activities that further economic development and social welfare in the region. Guided by a comprehensive economic development strategy entitled Triad Tomorrow, the RDC helps stakeholders form partnerships and leverage existing resources to revitalize our local communities.

HOUSING SERVICES
PTRC Housing administers programs that provide decent and safe housing for eligible low-income families in the Piedmont Triad. Programs administered include the HOME program, Single Family Rehabilitation programs, and Section 8 rental voucher assistance (Davie, Stokes, Surry, & Yadkin Counties). Housing also administers the Weatherization Assistance Program, which helps low income, elderly, or disabled residents save energy and reduce their utility bills by improving energy efficiency.

MANAGEMENT SERVICES
Brings professionalism, external objectivity, and clarity to the often complex problems of public administration. Consultation and research services provided to local governments include personnel analysis, executive search, group facilitation, and data & research assistance.

REGIONAL PLANNING
Consists of three primary service areas: local and regional planning, environmental planning, and transportation and pedestrian planning. GIS services are also a part of the planning division at the PTRC. Specialized program areas include stormwater education, sustainability, clean transportation, and bicycle and pedestrian planning.

WORKFORCE DEVELOPMENT
The workforce development program seeks to align the area workforce with local industries and to foster economic development by bringing workforce, economic development, education, and industry partners to the same table. This program oversees NCWorks Career Centers in the region and has developed initiatives in modern manufacturing and career pathways to match job seekers to business and employer needs.
